Audra Martin

Environmental Analyst

Audra Martin works in our Water Quality Division as project manager for the Commission's efforts related to wetlands and the Long Island Sound Study. Her many responsibilities include coordinating NEIWPC's wetlands workgroups, which bring together representatives from state and federal agencies and other individuals to discuss issues of shared concern. This includes the New England Biological Assessment of Wetlands Workgroup, one of many regional groups across the country helping to improve methods and approaches to wetlands monitoring and assessment.

Ms. Martin also serves as project manager for NEIWPC's work to improve the habitat and water quality in Long Island Sound. Her work in this respect includes support to the Long Island Sound Study Management Committee and Citizens' Advisory Committee. She also supervises other NEIWPC staff members who work on the project.

Ms. Martin came to NEIWPC in 2017, as a member of the Commission's staff at the Maine Drinking Water Program. Her prior experience includes work for the Massachusetts DEP and the Massachusetts Land Trust Coalition.
