

CALL FOR ABSTRACTS IS NOW OPEN!

Congratulations to Thayne Yazzie, STEM Education Outreach Coordinator at Salish Sea Research Center, for the winning logo contest submission!

The 11th U.S. Symposium on Harmful Algae will be held on October 23-28, 2022, in Albany, New York, at the Hilton Albany. The theme for the upcoming symposium is "Science to Support Solutions from Shore to Shore". From freshwater to marine systems, the prevalence of harmful algal blooms (HABs) is a national environmental challenge, and solutions are needed. Celebrating this event in New York – the only state with Great Lake shorelines, marine coasts, and the diverse range of ecosystems between these extremes – creates an ideal setting to discuss progress in understanding algal bloom ecology and the solutions necessary to prevent and reduce HABs.

Please submit your abstracts for oral presentations, speed talks, poster presentations, or workshops by May 6, 2022, to be considered for a presentation at the 11th U.S. Symposium on Harmful Algae.

TOPIC AREAS

- Training Session or Workshop
- Mitigation & Control
- Monitoring
- Bloom Dynamics & Drivers
- Cellular & Molecular Technology
- Method Validation & Reference Materials
- Microbial Interactions
- Climate Change & Resiliency
- Food Web Dynamics & Ecosystem Function
- Biochemistry & Ecophysiology
- Predictive Models & Forecasting
- GIS & Remote Sensing Applications
- Nutrients & Biogeochemistry
- Toxin Biosynthesis, Pathways, & Effects
- Toxin Detection
- Taxonomy & Genomics
- Engaging Communities & Stakeholders
- Public Health
- Socioeconomic Impacts
- Fish & Shellfish-Killing Species
- Impacts to Wildlife & Domestic Animals
- Multi-stressor Research Studies
- HABs Across the Freshwater-to-Marine Continuum
